

Invitation for the conference “Multilocality - quo vadis?”

of the Network Multilocality

in cooperation with the ILS – Research Institute for Regional and Urban Development and the ARL – Academy for Territorial Development in the Leibniz Association

on Friday, 18 September 2020 from 12 pm
at the Lensing-Carrée Conference Center (LCC) in Dortmund

For Friday, 18. September 2020, two closely connected events on multilocality research are planned in Dortmund: Following a good tradition, a conference of the Network Multilocality (in cooperation with ILS and ARL). Afterwards there will be a book presentation of the compendium on multilocality research published by the ARL.

You can find the Programm: PDF.

The conference and book presentation are planned as face-to-face events, but will be held in a hybrid form. This means that participation is also possible virtually (via Zoom) after appropriate registration. Please register by 10 September 2020, stating your desired type of participation (mail to: veranstaltung@ils-forschung.de, keyword: Multilokalität). You will receive a confirmation as well as technical and organizational information. With your registration you confirm that the participation on site is at your own risk and under compliance with the hygiene rules according to the Robert Koch Institute because of Covid-19. Participation in the conference as well as in the book presentation is free of charge, travel expenses must be paid by the participants themselves. The conference languages are German and English.

If you have further questions, please contact Prof. Dr. Rainer Danielzyk (danielzyk@arl-net.de) and Dr. Andrea Dittrich-Wesbuer (andrea.dittrich-wesbuer@ils-forschung.de).
